Description :

Calorimeter for Cement and Concrete

Technical Specification :

Solution Calorimeter for Direct Determination of the Heat of Hydration (J/g) of Cement.

The Solution Calorimeter for Cement and Concrete is an instrument used to analyze the setting behaviour of building materials such as cement and mortar.

The Solution Calorimeter for Cement and Concrete is designed with a steel housing to protect the samples from environmental heat fluctuation as well as specimen-to-specimen heat transfer.

Each measuring cell is also fitted with a heating element and thermoelectric conductive measuring chains for heat output readings.

It is able to determine the rate of heat generation with respect to time with the rigid control of a computer control system.

Special Features of the Solution Calorimeter for Cement and Concrete :

Evaluation and documentation of test results via computer

Fully-automatic test procedure

Rigid, durable measuring instrument for industrial and laboratory use

Simple operation

Self-calibrating

Control Device

From the beginning of the test, the control device operates the procedure with a direct interface.

The control stabilizes the thermal signal and amplifies it to be a measurable voltage.

It also monitors the internal measuring cell temperature.

All data is logged on an internal drive for later download.
